

Consolidation of media companies is bad for Americans and America. It makes competition hard for free-lance worker like me. The unique American product of creative and inventive screen-entertainment, (Television and Movie production) is at risk here.

Liberty Media has been trying to price-fix post production services in the LA/Hollywood market for years and has ruined the market here for big and small businesses alike. As a result, many post production services companies have gone under. People have lost their jobs. The remaining over-valued public corporations have gobbled up the smaller businesses to eliminate their competition. Companies like Liberty Media own parts of Cable networks, television networks, production companies, post production companies, and the list goes on.

When ONE company owns everything from the lens to the screen, we in production are left with almost no creative choice when it comes to using the right people and facilities for our work.

PLEASE BE CAREFUL WITH ONE OF AMERICA'S MOST PRECIOUS NATURAL RESOURCES.
THE MEDIA.
